Jo is truly upset at the thought of Helen marrying Peter, but also pesters and provokes him in an effort to antagonise him even. It was initially intended as a novel, but she turned it into a play because she hoped to revitalise British theatre and to address social issues that she felt were not being presented.

Archer wrote his first book, Nota Penny More, Nota Penny Less in the autumn of 1904. Archived from the original on 24 March 2016. In he won a court case and was awarded large damages because of this claim. Mr Mann [Simon Mann, the English mercenary leader of the coup] has made clear that it's nothing to do with me.

Retrieved 10 April 2016. Nonetheless he asks Helen to marry him, first half jokingly, then more or less in earnest. Archived from the original on 18 July 2016.
