No matter who you are, where you come from, or what you believe, you are American if you believe in the idea of America. The objective of this new theory is to turn government into a dynamic, evolving rational state, constantly changing and growing to achieve more Progress.

American democracy, of course, must mean an opportunity for everyone to contribute.

There was no longer any principle—whether natural rights or constitutional government derived from those rights—that limited the action of the state. Within a diverse and expansive civil society, countless private institutions—families, schools, churches, associations—would moderate the passions and dampen their influence, thereby encouraging deliberation and republican government. Rights are created by government in order to address current problems and new conditions.

They advocated a new system of reform economic that would curb the excesses of capitalism.

after this war is won we must be prepared to move forward, in the implementation of these rights, to new goals of human happiness and well-being. Abraham Lincoln rejected these views.
