Previously, MPs detained under the Mental Health Act for six months or more would have their seat vacated if two specialists reported to the Speaker that the member was suffering from a mental disorder. When the House of Commons passed a Reform Bill to correct some of these anomalies in the House of Lords rejected the proposal. The Speaker is allowed to deny the motion if he or she believes that it infringes upon the rights of the minority.
May 21, Donna Fernstrom rated it really liked it. But while he was climbing on to the roof the little pig made up a blazing fire and put on a big pot full of water to boil.
